As a student member, you receive the following benefits:

- Communication World magazine (5 bimonthly issues). Please allow four to six weeks for receipt of your first issue.
- Access to the IABC web site, where you can search for and network with IABC members
- Special member rates on IABC publications and textbooks
- Special member rates at local chapter, district/regional and international events
- The opportunity to explore career options in business communication with the guidance of seasoned professionals in the industry
- The transitional student-to-practitioner rate when you graduate -- one half off the annual international membership dues (chapter and district dues still apply), and waiver of the initial application fee when you join IABC as a practitioner member within one year of your graduation date
- Access to chapter meetings, workshops, seminars, internships and publications (if you have a local chapter)

The rates listed above are accurate as of January 2006 and are subject to change.

IMPORTANT:

In order to be eligible for student membership rates, students need to be either full-time students of colleges, universities and other educational institutions or part-time students working toward a degree or certificate, who are not presently engaged in the organizational communication profession.
